Foreword - by Muriel Illingworth

Hampsthwaite was part of the Forest of Knaresborough and in 1304 a charter was granted to hold a market and feast every year on the 3rd weekend of July.

I was born in the village in 1931, christened in the church by Canon Peck, Peckfield Close was named after him, and married by Alec Goodrich. I went to Hampsthwaite School like my mother and grandfather before me and my great-grandchildren are there now, so I have deep roots.

I have seen the village change and grow, it was only a hamlet when I was a girl. My older sister went with my mother to get water in a bucket from the pump on the village green. There were over 20 small farms, 2 shops selling groceries, the corner shop which only sold cigarettes, tobacco, sweets papers and comics. The post office, a cobbler, a haberdashery, the Joiners Arms and for a short while a fish and chip shop where Roger Bowers funeral parlour is now. Electric and water came to the village in the thirties.

For any house that had a spare bedroom, it was compulsory to take in evacuees during the war, the first children came from Leeds then London, the school was overflowing but not many stayed.

Everyone looked forward to the feast arriving, there was a large roundabout, a small one for the children, swing boats, coconut shies, shooting targets, Rolla-penny, brandy snap to buy and many others, all held in the field where the Memorial Hall is now. Children had to be careful not to fall in the beck, as there were no trees along the edge to stop you from falling in.

The children's sports were always held on the cricket field on Saturday afternoon, after the fancy dress on the Village Green, so cricket was cancelled that day. I remember, mothers had to partake, by standing behind a screen, showing who had the best ankle, it didn't matter how old you were to enter!

The indoor competitions, started about 40 years ago, so there is something for everyone to get involved in.

A big thank you must go to the present committee and sponsors, who give generously toward organising the present feast weekend. It takes an enormous amount of time and work, so hopefully everyone will come along and take part.

See you there and enjoy

Welcome - by Julian Franklin

It's that time of year again; hot sunny days and warm dry evenings.

Honestly, the weather has to be better this year than last. I can feel it in my bones (or is that old age?).

This years Show and Feast weekend is fast approaching!

The Show is now fully integrated with the Feast. One change you will see this year is all the indoor children competitions are combined and free to enter! Please remember to use the Show entry form. A second thing to note is the earlier start time for the Show – doors to the exhibits will be open from 1.30 p.m.

There are a lot of changes happening in our village, not all of them popular. One thing we have to keep in mind is our wonderful sense of community, and on that basis I want to welcome everyone along to this years Feast.

Celebrations start on Saturday with the Pet Show, followed by the Fancy Dress parade, with Show judging, afternoon tea with the WI and Tombola.

Saturday evening again promises to be a cracking event; children's disco, dance troupe and Ticket 415, a local band, with support. Bar and street food available as last year.

We sadly don't have an RAF flypast this year, Apparently they're too busy with a big birthday- shame. We do however have a packed Sunday for you, including another Hampsthwaite Challenge (my family will be trying to win again).

Terrier racing is back by popular demand; bring your dog along and pit it against its friends, possibly for a trophy.

As always there will be lots to see and do, so come along over the weekend and have a blast.

Julian - Feast Chair

Harpers Festival 2018

An evening of fun, food and music for all the family

Feast Field - Saturday 7pm to 10pm

What do Ellie Greenwich, Elkie Brooks and Berri all have in common?
They all sang the song 'Sunshine after the rain' and boy are we hoping for the same.

For those of you who were with us last year you'll probably remember the rain. The night started off with such promise but sadly the heavens opened and like 'incy wincy' we were washed away!
But fear not we've dried off and 'Like a coiled spring we're bouncing back'

So, please join us on The Feast Field
Saturday 21st July 2018 as we go all pink and 'GET THE PARTY STARTED' and build on the success of Festivals Past.

Introducing this years headline act

The Only Ticket You Need For A Night To Remember!

Covering a range of toe-tapping hits, anthems and sing-along pop tunes from the 60's right through to brand new releases, Ticket 415 is the perfect function band for any occasion.

And to make sure you don't have to miss a single minute, our very own mini food festival will be back, with Food from Nukkad, the Bratengrill, All Steamed Up coffee co & creperie, Mr Cools Icecream and a full bar service from 'The Queens Head - Kettlesing' - oh I'm excited already.
